

SOCIETY NEWS AND CHAT.

The Administration left town on Thursday. The President went to Cape May for the Fourth of July. Mrs. Windom accompanying him. Secretaries Windom and Rusk went cruising on Chesapeake Bay. Postmaster General Wana maker spent the national anniversary at Cape May Point. Secretary Blaine is at Bar Harbor. Secretary Proctor is at his home in Vermont, and Secretary Tracy arrived in New London, Conn., Thursday.

The concert at the White House grounds last evening was unusually well attended, and aside from the absence of the President's family from the balcony, the scene was exceptionally brilliant and beautiful. The many light and gay summer tulle of the ladies contrasted well against the green grass and foliage, while the lawn in front of the Mansion was all in shade, and the white shaft of the Monument was golden in the light of the evening sunshine. The air was deliciously cool and fragrant at in early June, and the brilliant-hued flowers of summer added to the charm of the scene. People walked about, young people flirted or sat under the trees, and looked as if they truly enjoyed and were thankful for the privileges of the place and hour. As the Marine Band closed an exquisite rendering of a difficult and enhancing air, in their best style, one gentleman was heard to accost another in this wise: "Jones, what was that?" "An air from 'Lohengrin,'" replied Jones. "What?" exclaimed the interlocutor, who was a little deaf, "air from a sewing machine? I never heard before that they had set that to music—good music too!"

At the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. S. P. Barnes, on Monday evening, Miss Mary C. Barnes and Mr. William C. Eldredge, of the Second Auditor's office, were united in marriage by Dr. Corey, of the Metropolitan Methodist Church. It was an exceedingly pretty home wedding; the drawing rooms were made beautiful by masses of palms and dahlias. The bride wore a handsome gown of white silk and embroidered crepe de chine. Her bouquet was of Bridal roses. There were no bridesmaids. Mr. Frank D. Fletcher, of Cazenovia, N. Y., acted as best man. After the ceremony a reception was held. The beautiful garden attached to the house was like a fairy scene with the glimmering Chinese lanterns disclosing the beauties of the stately trees and lovely flower beds. The refreshments were served in the garden. The bride cakes, garlanded with roses, were cut in the dining-room. At 9 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Eldredge left for a trip to various Northern resorts. Many valuable and beautiful presents were received.

The steam yacht Belle L. took a gay party down the river on the morning of the Fourth. On the return trip a stop was made at Glynnport, where the afternoon was spent in a very enjoyable manner, and the city reached before midnight. The singing of several of the company, accompanied by a guitar, was one of the features of the evening. Of the party were Misses Shillington, Hunt, Grace and Belle Miller, Bartle, Ellis, Hannan, Cammack, Tukey, Aldrich, Schneider, Stalaker, Heald, Young, and McLaughlin. Mrs. Crocker, Henrietta Basy, and Messrs. Eberly, Weber, Ridenour, Moore, Bob and A. Miller, Mills, Wirt, Kinney, Hillis, Joyce, Fred Smith, Maverick, Bingham, Acker, Murray, Darrell, Williams, Duvall, Sims, Stockett, and Tillinghast. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes looked after propriety.

Mrs. Harriette de Bodisco-Scott died at South-sea, England, on the 20th of June. She was the daughter of the late Brooke and Rebecca Williams, of Georgetown. Her marriage in her very early youth to Baron Bodisco, Russian Minister to the United States, is one of the international romances. She was sixteen and he sixty years of age at the time of the marriage, and yet the union proved a happy one. Several years after Baron Bodisco's death the widow married Captain Scott, of the British Army. She accompanied him to India, and about twenty years ago revisited Georgetown, and spent many months among the friends of her childhood and youth.

SPOILING FOR A FIGHT.

Trouble Ahead Between Yankee and British War Ships.

BOSTON, July 5.—The Journal's Victoria (B. C.) special says: The news telegraphed from Port Townsend that a special messenger had arrived from Washington with instructions for the commanders of the United States cutters to proceed to Behring Sea and seize all vessels found with any evidence of having been engaged in the seal fishery caused great indignation. At the same time comes the story that the British squadron has been ordered to rendezvous at Esquimaux. The latter story brings peace to minds of some, but the majority of British Columbians believe that no matter what acts of piracy may be committed by the Yankees the British war ships will not interfere. It is known that the crews of all vessels proceeding to the sealing grounds are fully armed, with a view of resisting seizure, but to-day a story leaked out that two clipper schooners are being secretly fitted out in Maple Bay especially to meet the Yankee. It is stated the vessels will each carry a heavy swivel, besides two smaller guns, and, disguised as sealers, will attempt seizure, so as to bring on an encounter. Regarding the story Capt. Scott, a veteran sealer, says the report no doubt was true, but the matter had been kept secret. The skippers of two vessels in which he was interested had armed their crews and swore to go to the bottom rather than submit to seizure.

Printers on Strike.

CHICAGO, July 5.—R. W. Donnelly & Sons, Lakeside Publishing Company, are working half-handed to-day on account of a strike of the Typographical Union printers, due to trouble in the Trow Publishing Company's office at New York.

The Trow Company is the publisher of the New York City Directory, and has always been a non-union office. When the new directory manuscript was hung on the hooks about a week ago, the printers, some of whom were union men, concluded that the time was ripe for changing the concern into a card office, so they struck. The work was sent out of town and Donnelly's Publishing Company was doing it. The Typographical Union No. 6, of New York, telegraphed to No. 16 in this city, ordering the men out. This order took effect this morning and thirty-two men fled out of the office. Mr. Donnelly, interrogated about the matter, said: "We can get all the men we want, and we shall certainly finish the little job we took from the Trow Publishing Company, of New York. I suppose they were rushed and could not get out their directory in time."

Killed by a Boarder.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Patrick Landrigan, of No. 478 Smith street, Brooklyn, was killed early this morning by Philip Kavanagh at his house. Landrigan and his wife keep a boarding-house at the above number, and Kavanagh was one of their boarders. This morning Mrs. Landrigan asked Kavanagh to pay her some money for his board that was overdue. A fight followed, and Kavanagh struck Mr. Landrigan in the chin with his fist, knocking him against a table. Landrigan gave two gasps, rolled over on the floor, and was dead. Kavanagh says he did not intend to kill Landrigan.
